

St. Clair window returns home

It's official: the historic Henry St. Clair window is back!

After nearly 10 months at Associated Crafts & Willet-Hauser Architectural Glass in Winona, Minnesota, the St. Clair art glass once again overlooks the Reference Room as it has been since its installation in the early 1900s.

This priceless piece of history was sent out for restoration and cleaning to ensure it's around for another 100+ years. The photo at the bottom shows our window being painstakingly cleaned and reassembled with new leading between each glass piece.

GPL would like to offer a huge thank you to everyone who made this project possible! Our generous donors include Dennis & Shirla Neff; Ken & Cathy Willis; Darke Rural Electric Trust; Darke County Foundation; Rotary Club of Greenville; Darke County Endowment for the Arts; Lydia Schaurer Trust; and Theresa Crandall.

Ackley to share Native American display

Paul Ackley, local cartoonist and member of the Sokaogon Chippewa Community, will be at GPL to share about his Woodland Native American heritage with a display of hand-made pieces. The program will be held on Thursday, November 2 at 11 a.m.

The items Paul will be displaying were all created by his late father, Richard D. Ackley when he lived on the Chippewa reservation in Northern Wisconsin. Headdresses, moccasins, hand drums, and birch bark artifacts will be some of the things discussed at the presentation.

Before his passing, Richard was an active member of the Greenville community. From hosting artifact displays at Garst Museum to speaking to local Boy Scout troops, he was well-known for his passion of sharing his Native American heritage with others. He was also active in the Bicentennial Committee and gave lectures at Fort Jefferson.

In addition to his involvement locally, Richard was a veteran of the Air Force, where he proudly served 10 years for his country. He was also a well-respected member of his tribe in Wisconsin. Paul recalled of a time when his father was chosen as the number one elder in the entire state.

"It was pretty cool," Paul said. "It may have been the number one Native American Veteran of Wisconsin, or something like that. It was out of the whole state. NPR interviewed my father on the radio program. It was a half-hour show, and he gave an interesting talk on the history."

Paul Ackley (pictured right) is shown with his late father, Richard D. Ackley. Paul, a member of the Sokaogon Chippewa Community, will be sharing his father's hand-made Chippewa pieces on November 2 at 11 a.m.

This is a free event and registration is not required to attend. For more information on this event, call the library and ask for Kelly.

Library Board

David Nilsen, President

Erica Neal, Vice-President

Nathan Hasek, Secretary

Joan Cummings

Becky Luce

Anne McKinney

Lauren Matt

Susi Halley, Director

Jesse J. Berry, Fiscal Officer

Amanda Olson, Newsletter Editor

Sound Bath & Mandala Creation coming to GPL

On Tues., Nov. 21 or Tues., Dec. 19, come experience a singing bowl sound bath and create a personal mandala with Sense of Healing facilitator Michelle Hickman! Both programs cover the same material and begin at 11 a.m.

Mandalas are circular symbols that are part of many cultures. Creating mandalas has been shown to boost the immune system, reduce stress and pain, lower blood pressure, promote sleep, and ease depression. Stretch your creative potential and be inspired as you explore pattern, color, materials, and texture. Let go and let your creativity flow after the sound bath allows you to ground and connect!

This program is only open to 20 participants per class. To register, contact the library at (937) 548-3915. Anyone with questions can contact Kelly.

Michelle offers a wide variety of services, including body tune-ups that help with everything from stress reduction and hormone balancing to boosting your immune system. She also hosts Creative Day Workshops and Retreats for groups of 5 to 20 people. Michelle can also assist with mindfulness and whole foods education, as well as aromatherapy and Reiki.

For more on Michelle and Sense of Healing, check her out on Facebook and Instagram to connect.

Facebook: senseofhealingartoftuning
Instagram: @senseofhealing_michelle

Come and experience a singing bowl sound bath and mandala creation session led by Michelle Hickman (below) at GPL on Tuesday, November 21 at 11 a.m.

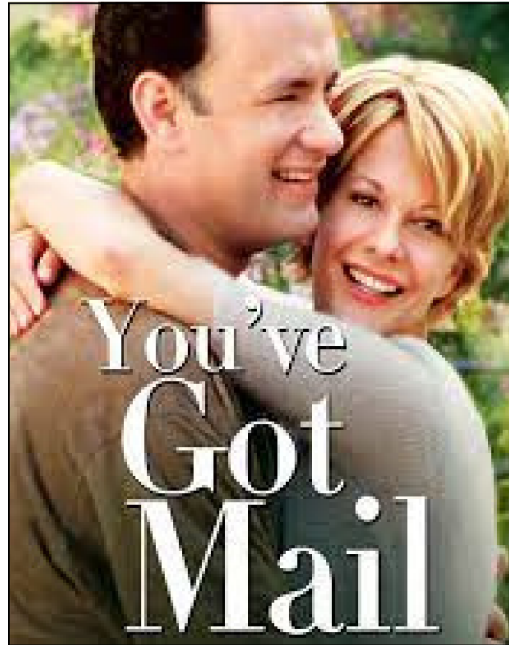

November Movie Matinees

Happy
THANKSGIVING

The Library will be closed on November 23 and 24 for the Thanksgiving holiday

Gobble
TIL YOU
Wobble

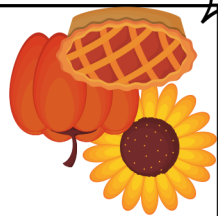

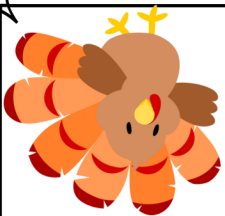

GPL will be showing the 1998 romantic comedy, You've Got Mail starring Tom Hanks and Meg Ryan on Thursday, November 16 at 1 p.m. The film is rated PG with a run time of 1 hr 56 min.

Those attending are encouraged to bring their favorite movie snacks and drinks. Sweaters are also recommended for anyone who gets chilled easily. We hope to see you there!

The Young Adult Department will be showing the 2023 movie, The Little Mermaid on Wednesday, November 22 at 11 a.m. The movie is rated PG with a run time of 2 hr 15 min.

Snacks and drinks will be provided for this event. This showing is for ages 11 to 18 only. For more information on Movie Matinees, contact Kelly at (937) 548-3915.

Greenville Public Library
520 Sycamore Street
Greenville, Ohio 45331