“Adulting 101” and Other Stuff

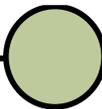

Teens and young adults have an awesome summer in store! On Mondays see a movie in the upstairs meeting room; Tuesdays enjoy Games & Crafts in the YA area or outside; Wednesdays participate in Writing which includes journaling, poetry, fiction and nonfiction; Thursdays join Adulting 101 in the upstairs meeting room; and Fridays do Photography which includes Nature/Landscapes, Portraits, Animals, and Action Shots.

A new class “Adulting 101” will cover the how-to’s and helpful hints on one of life’s biggest challenges: being an adult. Organizers Amanda Olson and Warren Richard agree “We know you don’t wanna but you gotta!”

Topics for June: Food Shopping, Safety and Yada, Yada; Self-Care: Treatin’ Yo’self Right; Relationships: Getting It Together So You Can Get Together; and Tech: You Don’t Know Jack.

These classes promise to be a lot of fun with food and prizes. All activities start at 2:00 except the movies at 1:00. Pick up a schedule and chill out at the Library!

Craft Beer: German Lagers

by David Nilsen

Germany is the land of lagers. The country's brewers demonstrate precision and refinement in brewing clean, crisp beers of profound quality within narrow stylistic guidelines and traditional techniques. In this first part of a two part series (part two will be held in August and September), join us as Certified Cicerone David Nilsen talks about the variety of German lager styles and walks attendees through a tasting of 5 traditional examples.

These Craft Beer Education Series classes will be held on Thursday June 27th and July 11th (identical classes). These classes are free, but seats are limited and registration is required. Please call the Library at 937-548-3915 to reserve your seat. We hope to see you there!

June's Lunch & Learn

The Library's June Lunch & Learn will feature one of our favorite presenters Jordan Francis from Wayne Healthcare. His title is "Self Care isn't Selfish."

Jordan says "Sometimes, in the pursuit of wellbeing, we step over 100 bills to pick up nickels. This presentation will outline ways to enhance mental wellbeing, while working on holistic wellness, without sacrificing self care along the way."

Lunch starts at noon on Wednesday June 19th. Space is limited to 24 participants so please register at 548-3915!

New Art Exhibit

For the month of May the Library was proud to exhibit art created by folks from Art Sense, The Happy Place, and Person Centered Services. Their beautiful paintings were hung in the Reference Room and displayed in the cabinet on the stairs landing.

Sue Huston, Community Connections Coordinator for Darke DD, suggested the exhibit. Librarians Candace Henne and Warren Richards arranged the paintings.

A special thanks to the Friends of the Library for donating the art exhibition hanging system that accommodates heavier pieces. Stay tuned for our next show!

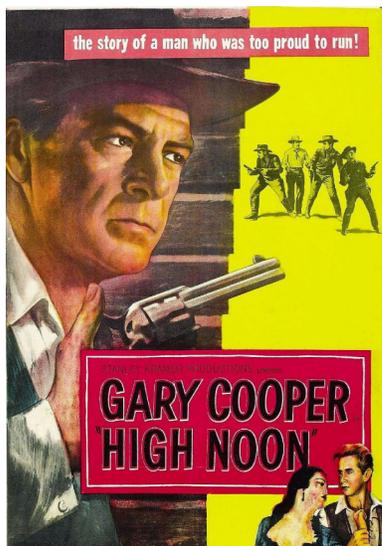

High Noon at Third Floor Film Series

by David Nilsen

The Third Floor Film Series will screen the 1952 western classic High Noon in June. The film was directed by Fred Zinneman and has appeared over the years on numerous lists of the best American or western films ever made.

Screen legend Gary Cooper stars as Will Kane, the marshal of a small town in New Mexico. Kane is set to retire but finds out that an outlaw he sent to prison years ago has been released and will arrive in town on the noon train, likely to take revenge on the aging law man. Kane's options are to flee with his new bride (Grace Kelly) or stay and face the criminal and his posse. Kane chooses to stay and tries to assemble a posse of his own to protect the town. The film's 85 minutes play out in real time as the clock ticks toward high noon and the arrival of the train.

led by the stoic but weary Cooper, High Noon boasts an eclectic cast of character actors that includes Otto Kruger, Lon Chaney Jr., Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Bridges, and scene-stealing Mexican actress Katy Jurado.

Join us on Tuesday June 4 at 6:30 p.m. as we screen High Noon. Free popcorn, candy, and soft drinks will be provided, and I will lead a brief discussion after the film. We hope to see you there.

Search & Rescue Canines

All SAR K-9's was formed to assist first responders in locating lost or missing persons. These dogs are trained to do so by following a specific scent that varies with each individual, even identical twins.

Join us Saturday June 8th at 10:00 a.m. on the Library lawn to learn more about this organization and to meet these courageous dogs. This is a free, family-friendly event for all ages!

Natural Homemade Lotion

Are you tired of spending money on products that contain ingredients that you can't pronounce? How about an easy, natural alternative that's fun to make?

On Thursday June 13th at 6:00 Misty Tucker from Granny Farkel's Soaps & More will cover these topics: optional ingredients and their properties, formulating your own recipes, preservative suggestions, containers for storage, and shelf life expectancy.

Misty will demonstrate how to make your own lotion and give free samples. To register please call 548-3915. Seating is limited to 25!

“The Water Street Cemetery Is Not a Park”

On Tuesday June 11th at 6:00 local historian Richard Halley will present evidence that shows the Water Street Cemetery has always remained a cemetery, that is, it was never retired as a cemetery and changed to park status.

He will use primary documents to trace its history from the early 1800's to the present. These records and deeds reveal a detailed story about legal ownership, early Greenville citizens buried in the cemetery, and proposed improvements that were never completed.

Those with relatives buried at Water Street will not want to miss this information. Richard has a special interest in the cemetery as he and his uncle Richard Westerman built the commemorative walls that hold fragments of some of the early tombstones.

He will recount the story of how the tombstones were removed and scattered and how the late Florence Magoto and Bea Campbell spent years retrieving what remnants they could. In the fall 1998 the two Richards began designing and constructing the walls (see photo). The walls were dedicated Memorial Day 1999.
